

eTalk co-host Ben Mulroney with event co-chair Caroline Bell Ritchie of Morgan Stanley Canada

Stephanie Tamblin, founder of Stream Communications, and Blair Tamblin, president and CEO, Timbercreek Asset Management

Sunshine Ball co-chairs Lisa Parsons (L) and Sarah Miller

DIARY OF THE WEEK

A SUNNY STATE OF MIND

It may have been a chilly night in Toronto, but it felt as though the sun was shining at Project Sunshine Canada's fourth-annual Sunshine Ball at the Eglinton Grand. Hundreds of glammed-up guests attended the lavish dinner hosted by Canada AM's Seamus O'Regan. The well-heeled crowd glowed while getting into the groove during performances by the Toronto All Stars Steel Drum Orchestra and Canadian Idol winner, Theo Tams. Patrons kicked into high gear to bid on auctions that included luxury vacations, exquisite jewelry and priceless keepsakes from the Vancouver Olympics. The sunny spot of the night? Almost $200,000 was raised to support educational and recreational programs for families facing medical challenges across the GTA. —AMORYN ENGEL

Matey Nedkov de Lacamp, president of International Corporate Expansion, with Marla Brown of Home party planning

28 HELLO!

Pat Burke, managing director and head of institutional equities, Scotia Capital, with his wife, Theresa

Sebastian Centner, founder of Eatertainment, with his wife, Sheila